Overview

The Graduate Certificate in Operational Commercial Law offers students a postgraduate coursework qualification in the specialised field of commercial law applicable to military operations. Core courses in the program incorporate blended learning and face-to-face intensive seminar classes. Elective courses in the program give students the opportunity to engage in more detailed research in operational commercial law, or to contextualise the core courses through exposure to relevant cognate areas of law. The program includes a compulsory research dissertation exploring an area of operational commercial law.

The Graduate Certificate in Operational Commercial Law is an AQF Level 8 qualification. It has a standard duration of 0.5 years full-time.

This program is available to domestic applicants only.

ConditionsCondition of Admission

Work experience: Applicants must demonstrate current employment or relevant work experience in the area of the commercial law applicable to military operations to be considered for admission to this program.
